

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A heat exchanger is provided having a plurality of coil circuits. Each coil circuit extends from an inlet header to an outlet header. The structure supporting the coils has an inlet face and an outlet face. A fan assembly draws air in the inlet face and out the outlet face. The fan assembly can be readily attached and detached from the inlet face.